ITEM 3.01 NOTICE OF DELISTING OR FAILURE TO SATISFY A CONTINUED LISTING RULE OR STANDARD; TRANSFER OF LISTING.

As previously reported, on August 29, 2011, we received from The Nasdaq Stock Market a staff deficiency letter indicating that we had failed to comply with the minimum public float requirement for continued listing on the Nasdaq Global Market, over the 30 business day period ended August 26, 2011. A minimum public float of $15 million is required by Nasdaq Rule 5450(b)(3)(c). Public float is defined as the closing bid price for our common shares, multiplied by the number of outstanding shares held by persons other than our directors, our officers and holders of 10% or more of outstanding shares.

Our previous report noted that our common stock would remain listed on the Nasdaq Global Market during the 180-day grace period following such notification of noncompliance, and that we would have until February 27, 2012 to regain compliance with the minimum public float requirement; otherwise our common stock would be subject to delisting. To regain compliance within the grace period would have required that the closing bid price of our common stock equal or exceed $1.18 per share for ten consecutive trading days prior to February 27, 2012.

We did not regain compliance prior to that date, and we received on February 28, 2012 from The Nasdaq Stock Market a staff deficiency letter indicating (i) that we had failed to regain compliance, and (ii) that our stock was now subject to delisting, for non-compliance with the rule identified in the previous letter. We have today requested a formal hearing before the Nasdaq Hearings Department, which ordinarily results in our stock remaining listed pending a decision from a hearings panel. According to Nasdaq, such formal hearings are typically scheduled 30 to 45 days following a company's request.

We are considering multiple courses of action that could be taken to maintain a listing of our common stock, and will present one or more of such plans to the Nasdaq panel at the formal hearing. There can be no assurance that any such plan will be acceptable to the Nasdaq panel.

It is also possible that we will regain compliance simply as a result of our common stock maintaining the requisite price for a period of at least ten consecutive trading days prior to the formal hearing, in which case we expect that our common stock will remain listed on that basis.

As of the date this report is filed, the closing bid price of our common stock has exceeded the requisite level of $1.18 per share for six consecutive trading days, through Friday, March 2, 2012. There can be no assurance as to the price(s) at which our stock may trade or be quoted in the future.
